SUMMARY

Foyle International Ltd recognises that it has a responsibility to provide a safe working environment for its employees. We have formulated this policy to help us comply with our legal obligations to staff, volunteers, service users and visitors under the Fire Precautions (Workplace) Regulations 1997. These include the provision of a safe place of work where fire safety risks are minimised. Due to its importance, this fire safety policy also forms part of our overall health and safety policy.

EMPLOYEE'S DUTIES

All employees have a duty to take reasonable steps to ensure that they do not place themselves or others at risk of harm. They are also expected to co-operate fully with the organisation in complying with any procedures that may be introduced as a measure to protect the safety and well-being of our staff and visitors.

COMMUNICATION

We will keep staff informed of any changes that are made to our fire safety procedures and fire risk assessment. We will also ensure that all visitors to our premises are briefed in the evacuation procedures and not left alone unless they are aware of, and familiar with, all available escape routes.

Do not store bicycles or bags in the corridors or near fire exits.

We have introduced the above procedures in order to maintain high standards of fire safety.

- The fire evacuation procedures will be practiced at least quarterly
- Training will be provided as necessary to any staff given extra fire safety responsibilities, such as fire wardens
- It is our policy that all staff will be trained in the use of fire extinguishers
- All new members of staff and temporary employees will be provided with induction training on how to raise the alarm and the available escape routes
